

Christine Mohler-King graduated from Greater Latrobe High School, Pennsylvania State University and the University of Pittsburgh. She moved back from California to join the family automobile business in 1997 and began her involvement in the community.

As a fourth generation business owner, Christine felt a responsibility to invest in the area, people and organizations that have supported their business. Christine has overseen the dealership operation expansions over the last ten years, and has increased their support of non-profit programs in the community.

She first learned about CASA of Westmoreland from her mother, a CASA volunteer and advocate. Upon learning of the outstanding work being done through this program, Christine was eager to support this organization and do more for the children in the county. She choose CASA of Westmoreland as the local non-profit of choice for the Subaru Share the Love Event held at the dealership every year. The event has raised on average $9000 year.

Christine's is a Board Member of Adelphoi, The Blackburn Center, and CASA of Westmorland. She is an Executive Committee Member of the Women's Leadership Council of the United Way of Southwestern Pennsylvania, on the Funds Development Committee for the Blackburn Center, and supports the YWCA of Westmoreland County. She is the past President of the Steering Committee for Greater Greensburg Faith in Action, and served two years on the Gala Committee for the American Red Cross.

Christine currently resides in Greensburg with her husband Ron King and their two daughters. She loves to be active, running, biking or kayaking and loves to travel.
